Impressive Memorial Service

The Crossfield Oddfellow and Rebekah lodges held their annual Memorial Service in the Masonic Hall Sunday Aug 11th which was entitled "My Garden of Memory". Mr. Sid Willis presided and opened the Service and gave an address on Fraternal Friendship. Mr. F. Hopper acted as Chaplain. Mrs. Hoover pianist played, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee", during which the brothers and sisters taking part marched up to their places on the platform which was beautifully decorated with flowers to represent a garden. Miss Ableman as Rebekah sang "In the Garden" as she walked among the flowers. Mrs. Lilley, taking the part of Memory, was seated in her garden and welcomed Rebekah and the following members who took part: Mrs. N. Tweedle as Fraternity, Mrs. W. Hurt as Friendship, Mrs. G. Ainscough as Love, Mrs. D. Fleming as Truth, Mrs. M. Jones on behalf of the Rebekahs and Mr. C. Thompson for the Oddfellows each placing a bouquet of flowers on the altar as they recited a short poem. Mrs. Lilley read the names of the departed members and a two minute silence was observed. Miss Ableman then sang "There's a Grand Lodge in the Sky".

This was a beautiful and impressive service and much credit is due the members taking part.

Mrs. P. H. Fleming sang the lovely solo "No Night There". Mr. C. Davis, P.G.M., of Calgary spoke a few kind words and expressed his appreciation of the beautiful ceremony.

Mr. C. Fox, on behalf of the Oddfellows, thanked the Rebekahs Oddfellows and friends who took part in the service and also for their generous donation of flowers which were taken to the cemetery and placed on the graves.

Independents Chairman Speaks

Speaking in behalf of the Independent members of the Legislature Mayor Andrew Davison, M.L.A., Chairman of the Provincial Executive which is handling the affairs of that group until a permanent leader is appointed, issued the following statement on Tuesday concerning the plight of Alberta farmers owing to loss of markets due to the war and the governmental restrictions concerning the sale of their grain.

"The Independents are heartily in accord with the recommendations made by the conference called by Premier John Bracken of Manitoba as reported in the press, following the meeting in Winnipeg last week.

"They are of the opinion that the farmers of Western Canada are facing a situation of the most serious kind. They believe the suggested solution of this problem as announced from Ottawa does not go far enough and that the proposal of the Federal authorities to make an initial payment on the basis of five bushels per acre for wheat and coarse grains is not adequate, and is insufficient to pay harvesting and threshing costs.

"In addition, money will also be required to assist the farmers in meeting other pressing obligations until such time as they can secure funds from the sale of their crops.

"Business men throughout the West are naturally worried as well. They cannot be expected to carry most of the load by way of additional credits without some assurance that money will be forthcoming to liquidate at least a portion of these debts.

"The Independents are convinced that the Federal authorities should see to it that the farmers are given a square deal. They believe that farmers should be just as secure in the production of essential foods as are the manufacturers, insofar as the latter's products are concerned. They are of the opinion that sufficient money should be made available by way of loans pending the final disposal of all grains now in storage and the 1940 crop as well, in order to enable our agriculturists to meet their more pressing obligations, including harvesting costs.

"With our country at war, the Federal authorities have wide power under defense regulations and these powers should be exercised to the fullest possible degree to assist our agriculturists during these trying times.

"As elected representatives of the people, Alberta Independents members are of the opinion that while the major responsibility of solving this problem naturally rests with the Dominion authorities, this does not relieve our Legislature of doing its duty in the present crisis. They are firmly convinced the Alberta Government should immediately signify its willingness to implement any action the Dominion cabinet may decide to take to carry out the recommendations of the Bracken conference or other policies equally as efficacious.

"They are prepared to support the Provincial administration in any policy of co-operation with the Federal authorities and believe no time should be lost in stating definitely just what contribution our

How is business? During the summer months when most lines of business are in a dormant state, we look to the fall and harvest time for the beginning of a general move towards better sales activity. Will this new business measure up to our expectations without making a special appeal to our district friends?

Human nature calls for service and the store that caters to the buying public with quality and service will go a long way to consolidate a new era in district merchandising. Our merchants committee of the Board of Trade would do well to make a survey of every available angle to bring home to us trade that has been allowed to drift away to distant points.

Crossfield and district is one of the finest communities, and Crossfield as a centre should be an exceptionally good buying point. Surely some method can be worked out where a big increase in business can be secured. If it's worth having, surely it's worth going after.

Deputy Minister of Education Advises

School teachers and high school students who will be called up for military training during September are urged to elect to take their training during the first two weeks of the month, rather than the second two weeks, so as to avoid so far as is possible under war conditions, undue disruption of the school year.

Candidates for admission to normal schools are also urged to choose the first training period. They will thus make possible their attendance at Normal school from the opening day, September 16th.

This is the gist of an appeal issued by Dr. G. Fred McNally, Deputy Minister of Education, following the receipt of information from military authorities that trainees under the National Service regulations will have the privilege of choosing their own period of camp training. The first is from Sept. 1st. to Sept. 15th; the second from Sept. 16th to September 30th.

Dr. McNally advises, following many requests, that:

1. High school students and Normal candidates should choose the first period. Only nine school days will be lost by the first named, none by the second named.

2. Teachers should arrange with local boards so as to avoid disruption. Where substitutes can be provided, or reorganization of staff is possible, the first two or the second, as circumstances warrant, may be found best. Where schools must be closed, the first two weeks should be chosen.

LORD ATHLONE PLEAS- ED WITH MILITARY DISPLAY OVER PETAWAWA HILLS

The crash of heavy artillery and the rumble of mechanical transports echoed through the wooded hills of Petawawa when Lord Athlone, Canada's new Governor General, accompanied by Princess Alice, visited the big training centre.

It was His Excellency's first inspection of a Canadian military camp and the series of special displays arranged for his benefit testified to the vast strides made by the Dominion's fighting forces since the outbreak of the war 11 months ago.

Bronzed fighting men, trim in their summer uniforms and sun helmets, staged realistic mock battles for the Vice-Regal party. At other points along the route taken by their Excellencies, displays demonstrating practically every activity of an armed force, from bridge building to bayonet charges, were given.

The most spectacular exhibition was a sham battle in one of Petawawa's wide valleys. The Vice-Regal party, together with high military officers, watched the show from a special stand constructed on the side of a hill.

More than a mile from the observation stand was a dummy village with the flag of the 'enemy' flapping from a steeple. When the 'attack' began, field guns opened fire at the base of the hill and the air was filled by the shriek of shells as they sped toward their target.

His Excellency, an old soldier himself, watched intently through field glasses as the heavy shells smacked the earth near the steeple.

When they began scoring direct hits and the 'village' had been reduced to a flaming shambles, His Excellency applauded enthusiastically. So accurate was the firing that shells were hammering into the centre of the target after the third round had been fired.

Meanwhile, as field guns bombarded the 'village', anti-aircraft machine guns peppered floating balloons with tracer bullets. It was explained to His Excellency that the anti-aircraft unit was warding off an 'enemy air attack' directed at the batteries concealed in the foliage at the base of the hill.

Dummy tanks were towed across the fields and became the targets for 15 pounder guns, fired with open sights. One tank, bearing the swastika, exploded with a roar as a heavy shell made a direct hit. Obviously impressed by the smartness and efficiency of the troops as they carried out their displays under conditions simulating actual combat, the Governor General spent the entire afternoon at the training camp before returning to Ottawa.

A Scotchman went to town for a holiday, and a friend met him wandering down the street with a pair of trousers over his arm.

Propaganda in Latin America

Great Britain is fighting for the entire world, declared Professor P. A. Martin, of Stanford University, California, in an address at the University of British Columbia. He said German and Italian propaganda is being carried out in the Latin American countries incessantly, and added that a German victory over Britain would mean a Nazi invasion of these countries.

Motorists Manual Just Issued.

A 52-page manual "Motorist's Manual" issued by the Motor Vehicles Branch of the Ontario Department of highways, was warmly commended to the people of Canada as a "valuable piece of health education" by officials of the Health League of Canada.

While primarily engaged in public education for the prevention of sickness, the Health League of Canada is also vitally interested in the prevention of accidents. Loss of health and life through motor accidents has been appalling in recent years, the League pointed out.

Half of the new "Motorist's Manual" is devoted to driving regulations describing who has the right of way, how to make a turn, rules about passing street cars, signals to other motorists, parking, traffic signals and municipal by-laws. In another part of the booklet "First Aid Reminders" are given.

"The doctor should be called whenever anyone has a broken bone. That's the first hint. The patient should not be moved until someone has applied a suitable splint or bandage. Bleeding be stopped as soon as possible, and no wound should be bandaged until bleeding has been stopped. These rules are suggested for wounds and for shock:

Examine for bleeding.
 Lay patient on his back.
 Cover patient and keep him warm.
 Keep his head low.
 Loosen his clothing.

Rub his arms and legs toward the body.
 Don't ask him questions.
 Turn his head to one side if he starts to vomit.
 Have him breathe aromatic spirits of ammonia.
 Don't move him unless absolutely necessary.

Urges Marking Alberta Roads

One outstanding need that has been shown so far this season in Alberta is that of greater marking of the highway, especially points of interest.

The particular care given to marking and mileages on the new Jasper-Banff highway should be extended to all parts of the main highway system, it is contended.

In co-operating with the provincial government in this regard, branches of the Alberta Motor Association have placed signs on numerous roads in the province but the work still is in need of considerable expansion.

A party of visitors recently arrived in Alberta from Winnipeg and pointed out that more extensive highway marking was needed in Alberta, a province that has so much scenic beauty to talk about.

Need of adequate signing of roads has been urged upon the provincial government by the Alberta Motor Association and officials of the government have stated that it is their intention to undertake this marking whenever the location of highways is permanently established.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

Most farmers will find it necessary this year to hold back more wheat on their farms than usual until next spring or summer. Some farmers have bins now in good shape, or which can be repaired. Other farmers may prefer to construct new bins. Still others may decide to construct temporary storage of sides made of lumber or of wire fencing, or of wooden snow fencing, lined inside with thick tar paper. These temporary bins are usually built without a roof and have simply a layer of straw for the floor. (This open storage should hold grain undamaged until the rainy season starts in the following spring.)

A cheap method of farm storage for those who use binders would be to go back to the old method of stacking. This adds one more operation, but many farmers who still stack think that the extra grade resulting by stacking makes up for the extra cost of the work.

Whatever method of storing is used on the farm, the bins or stacks should be securely fenced off to stop animals getting at them for animals not only can break down the boards of a granary, but can injure themselves by eating too much grain. Fire-guards should be ploughed around the storage places to protect them from prairie fires. The grain should, if possible, be insured.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Australia's wheat crop is expected to be 100 million bushels less than last year—1940 wheat production in Yugoslavia is estimated at 66 million bushels as compared 106 million in 1939—Preliminary estimates indicate the Canadian fruit production will be considerably below 1939.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Canada's wheat carryover on July 31st was the largest on record—Final official estimate places the Indian wheat crop at 402,600,000 bushels—It is estimated that U. S. A. will have a 370 million bushels.

Harvest is getting away to a start this week under ideal weather conditions. At the present time sufficient help seems to be available though as cutting becomes general and work is speeded up, there may be a shortage of labor.

INDEPENDENTS

Province is prepared to make in order to save our farmers from bankruptcy. Furthermore, the Independents are of the opinion that, if necessary, a special session of the Legislature should be called to consider this grave question. Merely giving voice to pious expressions of sympathy is not good enough. The situation demands immediate action and the Independents are prepared to assume their share of the responsibility in an endeavor to find a solution of this problem, if only given an opportunity.

Editor, The Chronicle:

After reading an item in the Chronicle of August 15 about the Edlund's pet robin, I thought you might be interested to know about my son's pet hawk.

Early this spring when hunting for crows' eggs, my youngest son Jack, came upon a hawk's nest with two eggs in it. He brought them home but as I did not have a setting hen, he thought of putting them in another hawk's nest that he had discovered in some bushes in our pasture. This he did and in a few days one of the eggs hatched. When the "chick" was about a week old he brought it up to the yard and kept it in an unused granary, feeding it on mice and gophers which he caught and chopped up in pieces for it.

The hawk, which goes by the name of "Pete", is now full grown. Is as tame as a chicken, will come at your call and allow you to stroke its feathers, beak and feet. It still comes around to be fed—the gophers are getting scarce now and we wonder how it will get along in the winter. I might mention that this is not a "chicken hawk", has never attempted to touch anything around the yard and lives entirely on mice and gophers.

KING GEORGE INSPECTS HIS SCOTS TROOPS

Among the lines of a regiment of Scots troops passes King George, visiting a camp in England. Although they no longer wear their picturesque kilts for fighting, the Scots troops of the British Empire still retain their fighting spirit that has made them honored on battle-fields all over the world.
